

Distribution Manager Development Program FAQs

Can we send more than one person?

Yes, we encourage sending folks in small groups or pairs to help with learning and bringing back practices to the office.

Having multiple team members attend is an education best practice to help establish common language among team and alignment on inspiration and goals.

Is there a discount for sending multiple people?

No, the class is already being provided at a reduced rate for AD Members.

Is there a virtual option of this course?

The course will primarily be delivered in-person at Texas A&M University.

We anticipate offering one virtual course annually or bi-annually.
